

or meditative state regardless of how much stress you have when you start. By balancing chakras, calming the nervous system and stimulating the immune system, the vibrations of the harps balance and regenerate the body. People often report a release of chronic pain and symptoms of degenerative illness and ADD/ADHD. Therapists and healers find them easy and effective. Clients go quickly into deep states of release and healing using the harps to start or end their sessions. This is truly one of those rare gifts which keeps on giving. Your Heart and Spirit will rejoice.

In May of 1979 there was an astrology chart drawn up for the essence of Magical Blend Magazine. In 2006 there was one done for CSI Media Corp. Michael Curley volunteered to do a free reading for the new company and myself as CEO that explained how our charts interact, and we accepted. CSI was conceived in October and born in January, so it has strong Scorpio and Capricorn energies. Michael got very specific, something many astrologers won't do. He talked for almost two hours on the phone. He gave us dates to expand and dates to be careful, times when cash flow will be tight, and times when miracles should appear. That night, my journal overflowed with ideas and plans inspired by the reading. If Mr. Curley is on track, CSI will be expanding for the next two years at a healthy and wise pace. Then, in 2008 it will explode into a whole new level of spiritual information-providing! My role in the company will continue to evolve and change. In 2008 I will be out of the office more
